Complaint resolution

We will always try to resolve your call at the first point of contact so if you call us, we will aim to resolve the issue there and then on that phone call.

If we are not able to resolve the issue there and then, we will lodge a complaint and provide you with a reference number. You will be assigned with a case manager who will deal with you on a daily basis to help resolve your complaint.

Resolution Time Frames and Resolution Process

Here are the time frames and procedures that we will follow when resolving your complaint.

Step 1: If your complaint is received by any method other than verbally through a phone call, we will contact you within two business days of receiving the complaint.

Step 2: Where we cannot resolve the complaint at first point of contact; the following will apply:

- a) We aim to resolve the complaint within seven working days of receipt of the complaint.
- b) If the complaint will take longer than seven working days, we will keep you informed of the reasons for the delay and specific time frames for resolution. A delay will usually be due to an ongoing technical issue with a service and where a fault has been lodged.
- c) If the complaint will not be resolved within 10 working days, we will inform you about your rights to escalate the complaint to the TIO.

Step 3: We will provide you with a resolution to your complaint in plain language at the earliest possible time via your chosen method of communication.

Step 4: A complaint will not be closed until you have confirmed that the complaint has been resolved.

Step 5: You will be advised when your complaint is being closed because we believe an agreement has been reached to close your complaint.

If you are not happy with the resolution to your complaint please advise your complaints specialist and they will escalate the complaint for you.

If after further investigation you feel your complaint has not been resolved, you may be entitled to contact the Telecommunications Industry Ombudsman (TIO). Please note the TIO is "an office of last resort" and in the interests of fairness, MEDIONmobile must be given a reasonable opportunity to settle a complaint before the TIO will become involved. You can find their details at www.tio.com.au.
